PACIFIC INTELLIGENCE INNOVATION INITIATIVE

A couple of government organizations (NAVFAC, HING, NIWC) and defense contractors (MC3, Kapu Solutions) are interested in students majoring in engineering, computer science, cybersecurity, or other hard sciences. These are intended to be full time assignments for 1 - 2 months, depending on the assignment.

P3I will pay $4K for the summer internship for current sophomores, juniors, seniors, or graduate students who are interested in Hawaii's defense sector. Interns need to be security clearance eligible (must be a US citizen).

If students are interested, they can submit a resume and transcript via email to info@hawaiip3i.org. P3I work with the mentors to determine selections and assignments (students do not choose which organization they are interested in). If we can't onboard and process quickly for this summer, we may consider pushing some of these into Fall.
